Propsci Perspectives: SmartLabs

The Goodwin Propsci team has partnered with several well-known companies for a short video series that explores what's happening in the real estate life sciences industry.

In this video, Goodwin's Nicole Riley is joined by Daisy Riquelme, Associate Director of Business Development, at SmartLabs, a lab platform that supports workflows at every stage of development.

We invite you to learn more about the SmartLabs business model and how companies in the life sciences ecosystem benefit from their capabilities and offerings. Daisy and Nicole will also go into more detail on how SmartLabs has been problem-solving for the broad range of real estate needs that life sciences companies face during all stages of their lifecycle.
