

Planning For The End: Goodwin FDA attorneys Steve Tjoe and Susan Lee highlight key takeaways From FDA's draft guidances proposing transition plans for medical devices marketed under EUAs or enforcement policies during the COVID-19 Public Health Emergency

During the COVID-19 public health emergency, the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has issued hundreds of Emergency Use Authorizations (EUAs) and numerous enforcement policies to facilitate the availability of important medical devices. On December 23, 2021, FDA published two draft guidances setting forth the Agency's proposed process for transitioning the multitude of devices brought to market under these circumstances to full compliance with FDA requirements:

- Transition Plan for Medical Devices Issued Emergency Use Authorizations (EUAs) During the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) Public Health Emergency (the "EUA Transition Draft Guidance"); and
- Transition Plan for Medical Devices That Fall Within Enforcement Policies Issued During the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) Public Health Emergency (the "Enforcement Policies Transition Draft Guidance").

In our recent Alert, we summarize some key takeaways from FDA's proposed transition plan for manufacturers of devices marketed under a COVID-19 EUA ("EUA Devices") and devices marketed under one of more than 15 COVID-19 enforcement policies listed in the guidance ("Enforcement Policy Devices").
